To Whom It May Concern

We recently had Joe and Chan from 'The Courage to Change Foundation' in for a meeting with our high school students and I want to express my appreciation for a job well done.

First of all for Joe to take on a project like this speaks volumes of his character and commitment to our young people. Secondly, to hear the "Don't Buy The Lie About Getting High" message from someone who has experienced the horrors of the drug culture first hand, and not from a textbook or monotone script, made the presentation real, alive and meaningful.

We may never know the real impact that this presentation had on our students, nor can we make their decisions for them. However if we can show them with the ugly side of poor decisions, lay before them choices and the related consequences, continually reinforcing the positive choices, then perhaps we will be able to keep many from following the same path that Joe once followed.

Great work guys! Keep it up.

Sincerely

Bill Gerber
